

Shelley Yorkstone

Yorkstone is the most widely used paving stone in the UK due to its hard wearing characteristics.

Due to this it is widely used throughout city centres where heavy traffic is prominent.

Shelley Yorkstone is a colourful hard wearing Yorkstone mainly consisting of grey, buff and brown.

Tested at the BRE it is a hard wearing slip resistant stone that is suitable for all application from domestic to heavy commercial.

Its main uses are for paving, linear and setts.

Thicknesses range from 20mm-30mm (internal flooring) 40mm -100mm for external applications.
